

Lowlands Cove Trail

Lowlands Cove Trail 5km to the coast from the Cape St Lawrence turn off or 7 km from the camp ground. Instead of taking the Cape St Lawrence turn off at the 2 km mark keep straight on after another kilometer you will see the Polletts Cove turn off to your left, after about another kilometer you should see the disused road and trail to the abandon zinc mine also to the left (1.5 km), another 0.75 km takes you to an abandoned farm all that remains is a clearing and some farm implements

The trail proceeds gradually down to the coast, the old road bed is washed out at the brook just passed the abandon farm but is easy to cross with dry feet in summer months. The topographic map indicates a side trail to Lowlands Cove Brook starting 0.7 km from the coast, I was day dreaming and totally missed this turn off, judging by the stunning scenery it would be worth locating.

GPS Waypoints

Cape St Lawrence light Turn N47°01.423'W60°34.696'

Cattle Corral N47°01.560' W60°34.381'

Meat Cove Look Turning N47°01.413' W60°34.233'

Meat Cove Lookout N47°01.225' W60°34.146'

View of Light from 525ft N47°01.796' W60°35.277'

Polletts Cove Turn off N47°01.013'W60°35.294'

Abandoned Farm N47°00.856'W60°36.219'

Washed out Bridge N47°00.825'W60°36.318'

Lowland Cove inland/Coastal junction N47°01.299' W60°37.144'

Wooden gate N47°01.446' W60°34.150'